

THIS MAY BE OUR FOCUS . . .

. . . BUT WE ALSO SEE YOUR VISION

When Architect John Fulton and Custom Home Builder Richard Farmer partnered to design and construct this 6,800 square foot residence, they turned to Kolbe Windows & Doors to help create their vision. A strong focus on quality details was the key to creating this English Country style home. Details such as the authenticity of Kolbe's performance divided lites, paired with the versatility of their extensive product lines, made Kolbe the clear choice. Kolbe windows & doors are built from your perspective and to your exact specifications. So when you're required to concentrate on the big picture, it's nice to know that Kolbe Windows & Doors is focused on the details.

Kolbe Heritage Series windows and patio doors were the perfect choice for this 6,800 square foot residence due to the quality, versatility and multitude of options available. Both natural wood and latex primed interiors, along with different hardware finishes, were needed to coordinate with the decor of each room. In addition many window and door combinations were created, which meant that crucial alignment of grille patterns and sight lines were needed to maintain a uniform look and carry out the English Country style.
